This Is A Quick-n-Easy Read

What you're about to read is a very special report. What you do from there can be either life altering, or status quo.

Before wasting another second of your time, here's how to know whether this report can help you or not. This report will be especially helpful:

- If you've ever been suckered, swindled, and backstabbed while making everyone else money, but never turning a profit yourself.
- If you are tired of doing the things the big-guns on the Internet do to get rich, six months after all the money has been tapped out, and the market has been watered down.
- If you seriously are willing to act immediately if only the right, and I mean right, opportunity presented itself in a timely manner.
- If you really, really, enjoy knowing and participating in something before the rest of the Internet world will get around to months, maybe years later.
- If you enjoy making money and sharing what works with others instead of hoarding the gold to yourself.

So what's the deal? Did any of those hit home with you like they did me?

Seriously, how many times have you been burned and suckered by MLM's, Various Systems, Distributorships, and downright hilarious promises?

If you're like me, you are getting real sick and tired of words like, "System", "Downline", "Matrix", and "Memberships." Not to mention, "Monthly fees!"

But alas are hope remains strong, our resolve is firm. Regardless of the fact that our hopes are dashed repeatedly, we just keep running back for more. I don't know exactly where the addiction lies, but I'm pretty sure it's somewhere between "making it big", and "insanity."

Yup, I am one of them.

A hopeful Internet whiz desperately doing every step the big-guns say to do. The trouble is reoccurring though.

Every time I get something up and running, it's much too late. The market is saturated, and the window of opportunity has been long shut.

Ironically enough it usually stands to be that while we are frantically scrambling to put "their system" together, that's precisely when they are working on their next big deal.

I've bought thousands of dollars worth of crap! And even more embarrassing was losing face over and over again with friends and family.

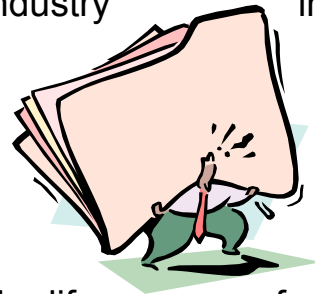

I mean, I couldn't even tell my girlfriend to look at another web site without her issuing a great sigh of tolerance!

Then it happened...

I finally found someone I could trust to get things going.

You see I had a product in me. That was not the problem. For over 7 years I had studied the Debt and Credit Repair Industry in search of honest solutions and thanks to my personal counseling I put together just that.

An honest solution to Destroy debt and Repair your credit, all with integrity.

The trouble was that at first, I could not find, for the life of me, an honest, ethical mentor to teach me how to attack the web with my business.

In a lot of ways the Credit Repair Industry is a lot like the Business Opportunities Industry: There are some reputable firms out there, but based on the sheer volume of competition, your odds on finding them would be better placed on a one legged dog in a horse race!

Then I found "the man." His name, none other than Mark Joyner, CEO of Aesop.com and Founder of Startblaze, ROIbot, and many different internet goldmines.

Finally someone to give me practical, no-nonsense teaching on how I could take it to the net. Not just take it to the net, but to succeed at doing it.

Long story short, after going through one of the most well written and packaged material by Mark, "Killer Internet Marketing Tactics," I had a web page up and running within a day.

Check it out, I built it myself:

<http://thecreditrepairmachine.com/2002/index.html>. Then I finished my complete system that educates, assesses, and leads you by the hand as if I was counseling my clients in person. The hosting company I found was the best in the business. They catered to someone who wasn't the most web savvy and gave me snap-in scripts so I can compete with the big-guns.

I highly recommend Third Sphere Hosting to anyone looking to start his or her own web business. It's like having everything you need all in one package. It's truly amazing! But I digress...

The knowledge that Mark imparted to me and the general enthusiasm to help others simply made him way different than the rest.

I don't wonder at all why the great Jay Conrad Levinson, Author of Guerrilla Marketing said,

"Mark Joyner is an Internet marketing genius. If someone were to ask me, 'How does one sell on the net?' I would reply, 'Ask Mark Joyner.' He is the best. No question."

In doing some research I came across a page that read...

Who is Mark Joyner and why should I believe what he says?

"Mark Joyner is the Tiger Woods of Internet Marketing. He is singularly skilled in demystifying online marketing through the use of his unconventional tactics that work."

- Mike Litman, Host of the international radio show: Business Breakthroughs

Mark Joyner is one of the early pioneers of Internet marketing and is a frequent guest expert on national TV and radio.

- Former U.S. Army Officer and Cold War Veteran of Military Intelligence.
- Turned a fledgling one-man Internet business into a multi-million dollar international corporation.
- Recognized as the pioneer of ebook marketing with the book Search Engine Tactics (1995) which has been downloaded over 1,000,000 times (one of the Top Downloads of 1999 according to ZDNet and still the only ebook ever to be given ZDNet's 5 Star Rating).
- Personally guarantees and uses every single product released by his company.

When Mark brings you ROIbot, he brings you his years of experience as an Internet marketing expert, and the collective expertise of thousands of people across the Internet. Thousands upon thousands of entrepreneurs, webmasters, and small business owners all over the world use ROIbot to automate their businesses. Each user gives continuous feedback to Mark's support staff at Aesop.com and they have been perfecting ROIbot for the last two years.

Mark is a fanatic about detail and perfection. You can rest assured that ROIbot lives up to the high standards for which Mark's products are known the world over.

Simply said... Mark Joyner is the most widely acclaimed Internet Marketer on the planet earth!

So now I got you wondering... what does all this have to do with "The next Big Internet craze?? Let me clear that up...

I'll tell you what it has to do with the next big Internet craze. One that is about to unleash an absolute storm on the web...

Remember how we talked about the Guru's doing things about six months ahead of us and we spin our tire trying to catch up, while they are generally counting their money and planning for the next big craze?

Well I got my grubby little hands on something mighty interesting. So interesting that I'm writing this book at 2 A.M. in the morning and not even thinking about quitting.

Here is the deal.

It was Friday evening at 7:42 EST. I know the time exactly because I got the e-mail as I was doing some maintenance on my site.

I got my little e-mail alert (this little butler that walks out on my screen with a silver platter, lifts the cover to reveal an envelope and says with a British accent, "Your Mail, Sir"...I love it!). And upon seeing the from address I opened it immediately. It was from Mark's office and I'm always interested at what he has to say.

Well this one was titled URGENT. I've never received mail from his office using scare tactics before so I was genuinely intrigued.

What I'm going to do next is share those very e-mails with you in order to show you the legitimacy and seriousness of what is about to unfold on the Internet.

Here is the e-mail I received...

From: xxxxxx
Date: Friday, 7:42:46 PM
To: william irish
Subject: URGENT for William,

Hi William,

How's your day going?

Mark asked me to email you directly about his trip to New Zealand. He's flying there tomorrow to meet the founders of a new company:

<http://companyone.cashevolution.com> (link has been updated)

He wanted to give you the chance to get in early before we start promoting it next week. Since this is a "matrix" plan, people who sign up under Mark will be "spilled over" into your team. Since you know first, you'll benefit more.

You can basically sign up for this without promoting it. Mark's promotions will build your team for you. He wanted me to give you this early "heads up" as his way of saying "thanks."

All the best,

xxxxx (I've x'd the name and email address to protect integrity)

xxxxx xxxxx

P.S. If you have any questions, I won't be able to answer them over the weekend. My recommendation is to sign up and then watch what happens next week.

I have to tell you. I was extremely excited that I was given this heads-up even before Mark had endorsed the program. As I said, anyone that knows Mark will attest that he is very protective of his clients and friends, so for him to drop a nugget beforehand was incredible.

I clicked over to the site and quickly skimmed through it, and promising to return, I went back to finishing my site development.

The one thing that remained in my mind the whole time about that site was the words "investment club." Being so active in the Financial Industry, I completely understand the power of Investing Clubs.

The whole Idea behind a mutual fund is what? To have a mutually funded account right? Well this is precisely the reason they are able to turn profits year after year after year.

You have a group of dedicated investors that work together cooperatively in a club, making sure that the fund continues to grow and grow fast. Exponentially. Combustion. Sound boring to you?

Think about this quick but extraordinary example...

Franky decides to invest $1000 per year at age 22 but stops saving after age 29, never again to put money in the account. Let's be conservative and say that Franky's fund has return of 10% annually in interest, which is modest for today's mutual funds.

Now Sarah decides at age 30 to invest $1000 per year, but she is more dedicated and continues to invest 1000 per year, every year, until she is age 65, never missing a year. The account yields the same 10% return in interest.

Can you guess who has more money at age 65?

Unbelievably, even though Franky invested for only eight years, and Sarah invested continuously for 35 years using the same interest rate, FRANKY has more money!

Franky will have $388,865.00 at age 65, while SARAH will have $329,039.00 at age 65.

That is compound interest at a 10% return annually and it blows my mind every time I think about it. One plus one doesn't necessarily equal two.

That is the power of investing. You think you could ever get close to a 10% return on a bank account, even a CD? Not a chance!

Well this company that Mark was looking into is all about an "Investing Club." Exactly what was going through my mind was that if Mark decided to join this program, the number of people he would bring into this club would make the company go ballistic.

Then it happened, my little e-mail butler made another appearance, just two hours after the first e-mail.

I went over to my e-mail, and this is what I found...

From: xxxxxx
Date: Friday, 2002 9:42:11 PM
To: William Irish
Subject: Almost forgot ...

William, I almost forgot ...

Mark wanted me to mention that there are a few things that really impressed him about Cash Evolution that may not be clear on their site.

For example, when you sign up you get an off-shore bank account and a global debit card (free with the membership).

It wasn't until he talked to their founders and heard the whole plan that he was really sold. He immediately booked his flight to meet them after he got off the phone.

One of the things he's going to do while he's there is help them resolve any technical and marketing issues they have to ensure this one is a winner.

Here's the link again:

<http://companyone.cashevolution.com> (link has been updated)

Again, his official endorsement will go out next week, so this is excellent timing for you.

Have a great weekend and enjoy the "spill over" :-)

I almost couldn't believe my eyes!

Did I actually read that Mark has not decided to endorse this company until he flies there personally and meets the whole team and sees first hand that they represent what Mark Joyner would expect from any company he associates with?

But even more astounding was the fact that I had the chance to get in before he even told his own company about it.

Without another hesitation I jumped over to <http://companyone.cashevolution.com> and sure enough I was right on Mark's site. I ripped that site apart, tooth and nail, checking out the program and actually one of my questions were answered.

You see, one of the most common reasons people don't get into investment clubs is the simple fact that they have no extra money to invest in.

No argument there. Especially in this post 9-11 economy. So my question was clear and simple...

"Why would Mark even think of endorsing an investment club company when most people are struggling in this economy?"

My answer was on the first page.

This company borrowed one of Mark's brilliant concepts of Affiliate marketing. Another words, combining affiliate marketing with and investment club.

You actually EARN the money to invest or you don't invest.

Using a power 5x5 forced matrix, and their small membership fees of $25 per month, you actually build a business of your own. And as for those pesky membership fees that I told you I'm sick of, the company keeps $0 of your membership fees.

That's right you heard me correctly, $0. They pay it out to your affiliates on five levels.

Now don't let this get too confusing, it is really simple. You pay your membership fee of $25 per month, however all you need is 3 people in your first level (right under you) and your account and business is SELF FUNDING! You don't pay a red cent.

What's better is that those three people in your first level can be a result of "spillover" as this is a forced matrix. Meaning you have all the people above you looking to fill their matrix and by doing so automatically add to yours whenever they add a member or those above them add members.

Then you have those under you bringing people in as well, but don't miss my point here. Your membership fee is paid with only three members on your first level. Brilliant.

I've personally never, ever seen any company pay out 100% of membership fees to the members. My friend it's unheard of.

Now you do the math. Mark Joyner is a multi-national Internet Icon with an unnumbered amount of loyal followers, and I was looking at the opportunity to sign up directly under Mark, before he even has endorsed this program officially, and more importantly before anyone really knows about it?

Can you say "spillover." If he was to endorse this after his trip, I'd be in great, no, terrific position in this company. Both me and my downline would be reaping the benefits of my positioning for a long, long time!

That thought and the companies well laid out site had my credit card scaling the walls of my wallet begging to be input for membership.

LOL =)

It would be a risk, I knew that. Mark hadn't even boarded his plane to travel to New Zealand to investigate, but to me it was one of those once in a lifetime, right place at the right time deals.

At 12:07 A.M. that same evening, a little over four hours after the very first e-mail was sent, I was signed up and paid under the infamous Mark Joyner.

Now it was time to wait...

I had done my part, but now the question became, “would Mark Joyner endorse this company?”

I guess the thing that made me most skeptical that he might was, understanding how particular he is about endorsing a company. I kept thinking what would it take to get an Icon like Mark to come aboard... that is what caused me to keep level headed.

I was however happy that I found out about this company one way or another so soon, because with Mark or not, this was a brilliant, and bold new concept. Never before has there been to my knowledge an investment club with affiliate marketing.

This really got me excited.

I quickly told a friend about it, one that has no background in investing, and wouldn't have known the difference between stock and livestock, so I knew it would be a good feeler.

The first thing he said was, “I don't have any money or at least the money it takes to invest in these “funds” you're talking about.”

I was ready, and after explaining the concept of affiliate marketing, in this power 5x5 forced matrix with 100% of the small monthly fee being paid out to members, he went to his backup question.

“Bill,” he said, “I understand what you're telling me, that my membership will be self-funded with only three people in my downline. I understand that they do not open your investing portfolio until you've reached level three, and at which point I'll be making a passive figure about $1500.00 a month, every month, right?”

I said, “that's correct, but why do I hear negativity, does that not sound good?”

“No, no,” he replied, “it’s just that if what this company says is true, and I only contribute 10% of my monthly commissions towards investing, that is around $150 every month being invested.”

“You’re telling me to invest $150 a month into these funds but for all I know I could be throwing that money right in the toilet. I never have invested in my life.”

What my friend had said was probably true for a lot of people that read this. Many people have no background in investing, so let me fill you in on a little something I forgot to mention.

Remember the membership fees that are paid back to the members? I failed to mention to you that they also include a top of the line financial education as well. Let me tell you, Cash Evolution did their homework. Here is a clip from their site...

“Education is your key...

They really have covered all the questions you can come up with. I suggest you read through their site for yourself. They even have a "faq's" page.

But back to the story at hand. So I had a paid membership only a few hours after Marks office sent the very first e-mail. I was excited at the opportunity, but honestly skeptical whether or not Mark Joyner would approve after flying all the way to New Zealand and "looking under the rug" to make sure all was well.

So you can imagine my state of expectation. The next thing I found only heightened my curiosity even more. It was an e-mail that had a memo from the CEO of CASHevolution.

It read as follows...

A report by the CEO - Craigè Mayo

Dear Member,

We are happy to announce that Mark Joyner has taken such a strong interest in Cash Evolution that he is flying out to New Zealand next week to learn more. Mark is very enthusiastic about our program and wants to see our offices and organization first hand before he comes on board.

If you've been on the Internet for more than a day, odds are you have heard of Mark Joyner. He is one of the most highly respected Internet Marketers in the world. Jay Conrad Levinson, author of Guerrilla Marketing says of Mark as an Internet Marketer: "He is the best. No question". Mike Litman, the host of "Business Breakthroughs" calls Mark "The Tiger Woods of Internet Marketing".

Mark Joyner is the CEO of Aesop.com and carries with him a vast list of accomplishments including creating such Internet icon companies as StartBlaze (one of the Top 100 most visited web sites in the world) and ROIbot. If we meet Mark's high standards, he will be added next to Bravenet above all our Builders so his incredible advertising power can create spillover for as many of our Members as possible. He will also be lending us his incredible marketing and business skills.

Regards,

Craigè Mayo
CEO - CASHevolution.com

Be honest now... If you received that e-mail wouldn't after joining right under Mark, only to hear that in line of matrix, he is atop the world??

Go ahead, read that last paragraph again about his positioning and even the company's expectation for spillover.

Okay, so the wait was on!

The next communication I received was from Mark's office again and chomping at the bit, I ripped that e-mail open and found this...

From: xxxxxx
Date: Monday, 6:12:18 PM
To: William Irish
Subject: William, Update from Mark in NZ

Hi William,

Mark wanted me to send you a quick note to let you know that he's spent the last 24 hours in New Zealand with the folks at Cash Evolution.

He said that he's been quite impressed and that his formal endorsement will be forthcoming in the next day or so.

In case you haven't signed up yet (sorry, he hasn't had the time to check on you), he wanted to make sure you knew that you still have the opportunity to sign up before the rest of the world knows about it.

If you wait, you'll still be able to benefit greatly from Mark's "spill over" -- but the sooner you join in, the more spill over you'll get.

Here's the link again:

<http://companyone.cashevolution.com> (link updated)

All the best,

xxxxxx

P.S. Oh yes, Mark also wanted me to let you know that since you get an offshore bank account when you sign up (the account is located in the West Indies, an ideal place for an offshore account) and these accounts normally cost hundreds of dollars to set up (let alone the hours of research it would take to find a trustworthy bank), you might want to just sign up for that alone. If you cancel your Cash Evolution membership, the account is still yours. Just give it a month to see if your downline grows on its own. If it doesn't, hey, you've got a great offshore bank account to use as you wish!

I'll let you guess what my reaction was!

Unbelievable. I was also happy that my friend had jumped in also, after reviewing the site all day for himself, he became a member on my first level. When I shared this e-mail with him...he almost hit the roof.

I did all I could to keep us level again, stating that it still hasn't been endorsed and we'd be dumb not to realize that things can change fast.

Alright, moving on... we're almost done.

The next evening arrived and out came my little e-mail butler.

After opening up my mail, this is what I found...

Subject: StartBlaze News FLASH

Dear William,

It's official. Our CEO, Mark Joyner, has given his formal endorsement for "Cash Evolution."

He asked us to forward the below message to you for immediate action:

-----

Dear StartBlaze Members,

I'm writing today from New Zealand with fantastic news.

I've been combing the Net for months now, looking for a way StartBlaze members could multiply their incomes.

Since StartBlaze is one of the top 100 most visited websites in the world and possibly the most popular traffic building tool in the world, I did not take this task lightly. I knew that potentially millions of people across the Net would adopt anything I recommended. I could not in good conscience recommend anything but the most lucrative and stable opportunity to our members.

A few weeks ago, my search took me to a new affiliate program called "Cash Evolution." Frankly, I was not impressed. Granted, the idea was very interesting (a 5x5 forced matrix compensation plan funding an investment club), but I didn't think the web copy was very strong, so I left it never to return. Or, so I thought.

A week later a good friend of mine urged me to take another look. He pointed out a few benefits that were not clear on my first look. Wanting to know more, I called their CEO, Craige Mayo. I was so impressed with him as a person, and what he had to say that I've flown all the way to New Zealand to check them out myself.

Over the last few days I've become more and more impressed with the people, vision and financial stability behind Cash Evolution. You can understand my delight when I realized that this is an opportunity of global consequence.

I'll be releasing a full report of my findings in a few days (complete with pictures and scans of documents verifying their legitimacy). In the meantime, here are a few things I found that led me to realize the limitless potential of this company.

1. 100% Commissions.

Yes, 100% of the membership fees are paid back in commissions to the affiliates. The owners make money only by their own positions in the matrix so therefore are supremely motivated to ensure this system works for the affiliates. This was the single most important factor in my decision. For most companies, their success does not depend on the activity of affiliates.

2. A 5x5 Forced Matrix Compensation Plan (3 Powerful Forces Building Your Team).

Your team is built from the promotions of your sponsors, you, and those in your team. This is the most important thing to know about a "forced matrix." If this isn't clear, just know that by signing up in the matrix of someone like me, you will benefit for years from the "spill over" of my promotions. This means that people I ask to sign up will be placed in your matrix.

3. Commissions are Paid to Your Very Own Offshore Bank Account.

As soon as you sign up, an offshore bank account is established for you in the West Indies and you are given a global debit card to withdraw funds anywhere in the world. Frankly, you could sign up, get the offshore account, and then cancel a month later if your matrix doesn't grow on its own. That's the least expensive offshore bank account I have ever encountered.

4. 10% Conversion Rate.

Based on some very preliminary word of mouth promotion, my personal website has seen a conversion rate of 10%. That means that 10% of the people I sent to the site signed up. My original assessment of the ad copy was dead-wrong. This site pulls quite well.

5. Each Month Receive Additional Income from Various Investments.

After your 3rd tier is full, 10% of your earnings (or more if you like) will be invested in a number of mutual funds across the globe. You will learn about investing and money management through actual practical application. Since very few people in the world are saving for retirement, this is a great opportunity to build your future.

6. The Product is Self-funding After You Have Just 3 People In Your Matrix.

Chances are, you may get those 3 people just from the promotions of your sponsors.

7. This Company is Very Stable, Reliable, and Trustworthy.

I've spent the last few days meeting the owners, financial backers, staff, and technical back end of Cash Evolution. Tomorrow, I will meet their accountants and lawyers and they will provide me with letters certifying the legitimacy, legality, and solvency of this company. Most importantly, the owners are all family men with the highest integrity and a positive global vision for the future.

8. Benefit Now from My Global Campaign to Promote Cash Evolution.

Those who sign up now will benefit the most from my global marketing. In a few days I will launch a massive marketing campaign to build my matrix and yours. All will benefit greatly, but those who get in the earliest will benefit the most.

After you sign up here:

<http://companyone.cashevolution.com>

You have my permission to replace my URL above with your personal promotional URL and send this letter to your subscribers, customers, friends and family. Then, they will have the opportunity to benefit from my marketing campaign as well. Perhaps they, too, will then send this letter along to their contacts as well.

I would not attach my name to a program like this lightly. That is why I've flown to New Zealand myself to ensure this is a business with truly global potential. Great prosperity lies ahead for all of us who choose to take our destinies in our own hands and sign up now.

I will report in more great detail, the details of my due diligence, in the next few days.

All the best,

Mark

Mark Joyner

CEO, Aesop.com

Founder of StartBlaze, ExitBlaze, ROIbot and more.

Author of "Mind Control Marketing"

P.S. Please remember to forward this letter after you sign up. That will be your first step to building your financial future. I will give you further steps as the days progress. I promise I will make it easy for you.

Now I consider myself pretty well educated, but I still can't find the words to explain what this did for my day.

So I will not try to. Just remember how good I was feeling about my position prior to the endorsement and I'll leave it at that.

I will not even try to give you any more information about this opportunity. I think I was quite clear and forthright about what stands before you. The question now turns to you.

- Do you have the commitment to build yourself your very own business while learning the ropes to investing?
- Is $25 too much of a risk to assume you will never have any spillover or be able to market this opportunity to only three people, regardless of what you've read about?
- Are you interested in finally being involved with something long before it becomes saturated? Putting your self in position that could pay for years to come?

Only you can answer those personal questions. I will not attempt to convince you that I know what is best for you when I've no clue who you are.

Hey, this may not be the kind of opportunity you're interested in, and thankfully you learned all about it for free.

But chances are you are like the majority who realize it is time to seize the day. To make it work. To say, "I will focus all my efforts on this one golden opportunity and take responsibility for it prospering or failing."

If that's you my friend, I want you on our team. Get your self in position now to take advantage of all the upline advertising that is about to be unleashed.

If you are ready to get involved now, click to <http://companyone.cashevolution.com> and start your very own business today!

If you need marketing help to get people involved consider using this very book to promote this opportunity. I give you permission to distribute this ebook to whom you see fit, keeping in mind that spamming or sending unsolicited e-mail is strictly forbidden, and you assume all responsibility for distributing this book responsibly.

Just a last point about spam, it is Cash Evolution's policy to kick any spammers out of the program to never return. I urge you to comply.

I ALSO HAVE A PERSONAL OFFER FOR YOU.

If you liked the layout and flow of this ebook, but wish you had one with your own personalized links in it, I will build and compile your own PDF ebook just like this one only with your link to your CASHevolution site!

And it is not what some marketers charge you for customized reprint rights usually running about $299 and up.

I will make this easy for you... jump over to this link and there you'll find all the information you need in order to get your hands on your very own copy of this 24/7 marketing machine ebook. Within 1 or 2 days from now you can be distributing your very own ebook with your CASHevolution membership link plastered throughout it. No strings attached.

Subject: For William, from Mark (in Auckland, NZ)

Hi William,

I've been in Auckland, New Zealand for the last week and am extending my stay here for one more week still.

I flew out here to investigate this fascinating new company and so far I'm extremely impressed:

<http://companyone.cashevolution.com/> (updated link)

There is much more to these guys than is apparent on the website.

I've been meeting with the owners, visiting their data facility, meeting their technical staff and conducting various forms of general due diligence. So far I'm convinced this is *the* next big thing and that the company is very trustworthy.

I'm going to extend my stay for another week so I can help them with their growing pains.

I hope you'll take advantage of signing up with this company today so you can benefit from the "spill over" of the extensive promotions I'll be launching here shortly. (The sooner the better.)

Anyway, while you're waiting for "Mind Control Marketing Letter" #2, I thought I'd pass on this very happy Internet discovery.

All the best,

Mark

P.S. If all this doesn't make sense, I recommend that you sign up and watch what happens. I predict this thing is going to be quite huge (as do many others):

P.P.S. I'll be releasing a detailed report of my stay, shortly. It will include due diligence documents, a narrative of my stay and pictures of me with the Cash Evolution Team, and more (I might even post a picture of a *wonderful* girl I met out here, if she'll let me! :-)
